“In Your Own Words”

One of the things that makes our country so unique is its many different people and cultures and their varying styles and opinions. As Americans, we have the freedom to express our individuality. On a smaller scale, at Courtland High School, as we navigate from class to class each day, we see a diversity of people in different situations. Each person has a distinct outlook on life. In this year's TRACKS, we will show the various impacts that others have on our lives while we strive to remain unique. From the tintinnabulation of the first bell at 7:58 to the chime of the dismissal bell at 2:45, we are influenced by the many styles and interests of our classmates, though we must still form our own individual personalities.

What makes you an individual?

“I’m crazy like a nut, but not the kind you eat!”

—Shane Thibodeau

“I walk to the beat of a different drummer.”

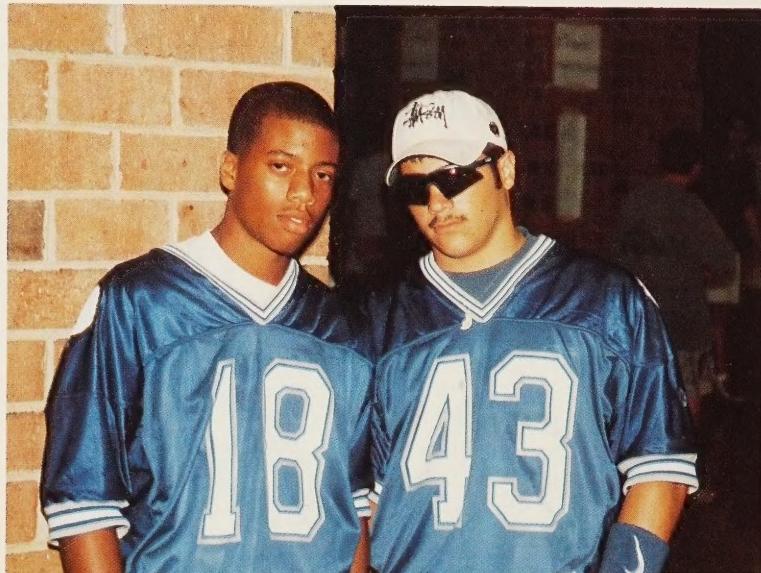

—Megan Driest

“Because I’m me and not somebody else.”

—Larry Earnest

—Charlie Breedon

“Cause I’m Robby. That says it all.”

—Robby Stanford

“My enthusiasm and friendliness.”

—Katie Talley

“Nobody else has her hair this short.”

—Laura McKenna

“My unique tastes and my quest for the finer things in life.”

—Kenya Razor

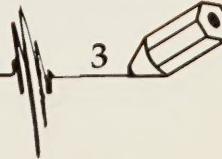

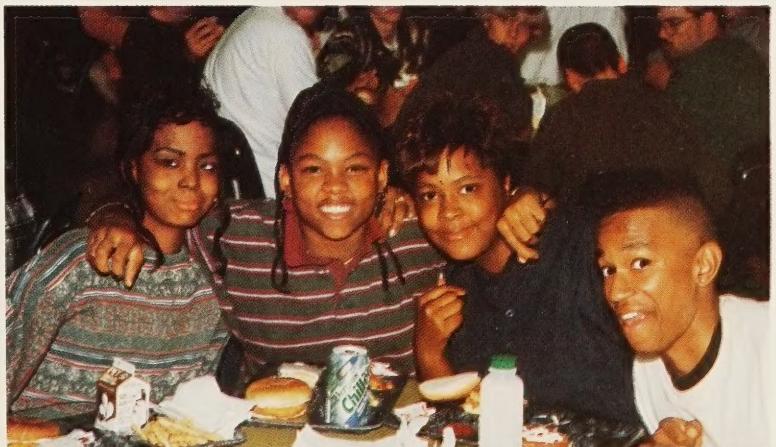

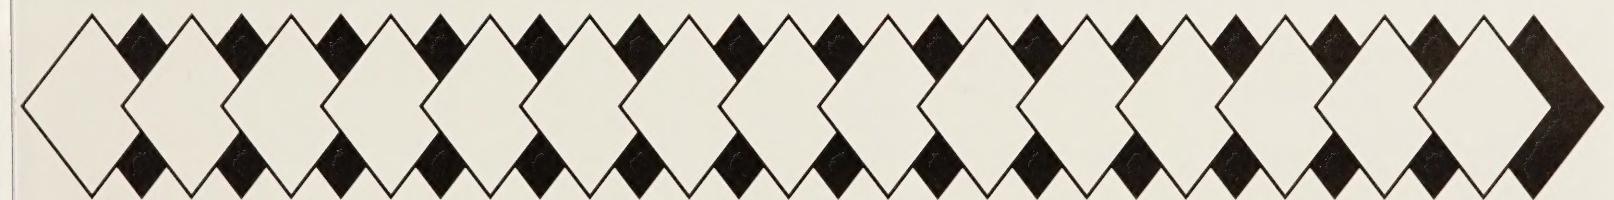

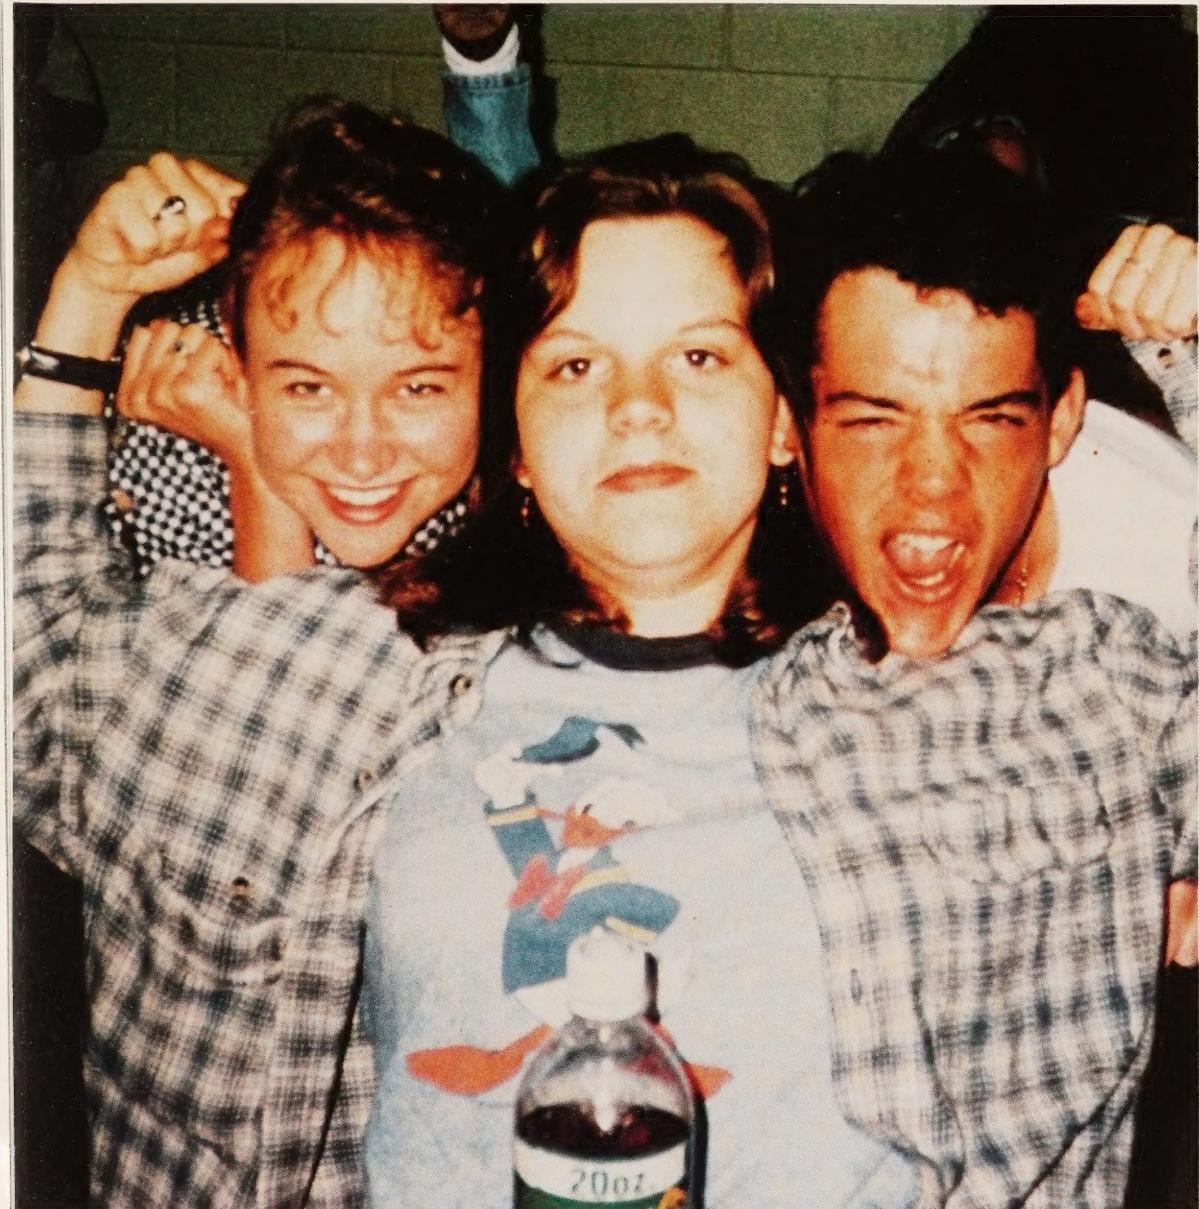

“Because only I can do what I want to.”

—Sammy Ahmad

"If you always do what interests you, then at least one person will be pleased."

--Katherine Hepburn

“Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm”

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Jas all the spirit the students at Courtland High once had gone the way of the dodo bird? Can we no longer look around and see people with blue faces and cougar paws on their cheeks? Pride in Courtland seems to have diminished somewhat since our “glory days” but--make no mistake--there still is some spirit out there. Each Friday during the football season the band comes out to play for the students eating lunch and cheerleaders encourage students to join them in their cheers. Courtland athletics are on the comeback and pride in the school--both athletic and academic--is starting to make its impact once again. We should all be proud to call ourselves Cougars and yearn for a return to the days of “Raw Meat.”

SPRING EVENTS

“...If [a man] has a talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few men ever know” –Thomas Wolfe

May 11, 1995 was a very important day for the many student leaders at Courtland. Outstanding leaders were recognized by ribbons and Ivan Perkins, a motivational speaker. The Students of the Month were also recognized for their contributions to the school. After the guest speaker, Mr. Noakes inducted the new SCA officers for the 1995-96 school year. President Mike Spears, Vice President Missy Grieves, Secretary Kaley Ray, Treasurer Jeremy Bullock and Reporter-Historian Erica Roberson all took the SCA oath, promising to do the best job possible serving their school. The Board members were also inducted, promising to assist the officers in their duties. The Leadership Assembly was successful in helping to motivate and inspire all the students at Courtland.

“... a time to laugh ... a time to dance”

—Ecclesiastes 3:1-8

As prom night was approaching the Junior class board and volunteers helped to decorate the ball room at MWC. The prom colors were black, white and gold. Students came the Friday before prom to get things ready. The following Saturday they arrived early in the morning to finish last minute details. Decorations included white rose centerpieces, black and white balloons, confetti, and silk ficus trees with white miniature lights. On one side of the ballroom a working fountain was set up and became the new home to several gold fish. Due to all of the help, prom was a huge success.

Top: (Clockwise) Lea DeBosh, Erica Roberson, Colleen Givens, and Kylene Kehn blow up white and black balloons. The balloons were scattered on the floor of the ball room. Middle: Volunteers of the Junior class admire the results of their hard work. The water fountain with live goldfish was a main attraction to those who went to the dance. Bottom: Melissa Burke (Left) and Stephanie Mager place roses in vases to be centerpieces for the tables. Black and gold confetti was scattered around each vase. Right: Two white arches decorated in ivy were placed in the ballroom. The arch pictured above was at the entrance of the ballroom.

“Unforgettable” - Prom 95

Prom was held on May 13, 1995 in the Mary Washington College Ballroom. The theme of the evening was "Unforgettable." The junior class worked very hard to make the dance a beautiful occasion with the help and dedication of Mrs. Mills, the junior class sponsor. Seniors Jason Ogle and Amy Sale were chosen to be Prom king and queen. Due to the efforts of many volunteers, an enjoyable evening of elegance was experienced by most of the students that attended.

He said: "The variety of music could have been better." -T. J. Rulapaugh

She said: "I felt like a princess." - Megan Romine

Opposite page top: Each couple received a candle and a key chain to remember the evening. The candle was made of gold glitter wax and the theme, "Unforgettable," was written on the glass. Opposite page bottom left: Several couples enjoyed different dances throughout the evening. The Locomotion and the conga were among the many. Opposite page bottom right: Prom Court clockwise from left: Amy Sale, Jaclyn Harrison, Ginger Avery, Lauren Marcellin, Meg MacDonald, Danny McBride, Matt Guido, Jeff Kepler, Jerome Gilberry and Jason Ogle. Jason Ogle was prom king and Amy Sale was prom queen. This page top: J. R. Melvin and Pam McKay take a breather from the dance floor. Couples could finally relax and have fun after the stress of preparation was over. Bottom left: Dr. Walker and Mrs. Mann greeted couples as they entered the ballroom. They also gave each couple parting gifts as they left the dance. Bottom right: As the evening progresses, more couples start to arrive. Kim Crawford, Gary Mont, and Audrey Young smile excitedly as they enter the ballroom.

Last year the Courtland Drama Department staged a springtime production of My Son is Crazy...but Promising. The basic plot involves a small time script writer, Bud Granger (Danny McBride), who wants to buy an old, rundown lodge in Arizona because of a legend that gold is buried in that area. The owner of the lodge, Gert Witherspoon (Liz McBride), sees no other option but to sell it to him due to her own financial dire straits. A secondary plot in the play is the paranoia of a defected German spy, Dimitri James (Tyler Melchior) and his friend and confidant Susan (Annie Antinori) who are hiding out in the lodge. Tying both stories together are the sheriff (Wes Ward); Bud's overdramatic mother, Tilly (Heather Dancer); his slimeball agent, Larry (Phil Male); and two mildly delusional old ladies (Melissa Dixon and Rosie McNally).

*“If you can dream--and not make dreams your master;
If you can think--and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster and treat those two imposters just the same. . . If you can fill the unforgiving minute with sixty seconds of distance run, yours is the Earth and everything that's in it . . .”*

—Rudyard Kipling

Each year in late May, a day is set aside for the Senior Awards Assembly. During this assembly, graduating seniors are recognized with special honors and scholarships. Many school groups give out awards to seniors who have made contributions to their clubs or departments. There are also several organizations in the community that give out scholarships. This day is important to seniors as they are recognized for their hard work. Memories of accomplishments here at Courtland will stay in the minds of these students as they receive their awards and head out into the unknown.

"Farewell to thee, farewell to thee . . . Until we meet again." - Lydia Kamekeha Liliuokalani

Courtlands 1995 graduation ceremony was held on June 16. Danny McBride, the senior class president, welcomed fellow graduates, faculty, family members and friends. Next, state senator Edd Houck provided the students with an inspirational speech. The opening address was then given by Ryan Goodrich, followed by the commencement address given by class valedictorian, Courtney Boiler. The graduates cheered and celebrated with friends after the distribution of diplomas.

Hicks -Le

Senior Hat day is a favorite Courtland tradition for many seniors. Government teachers passed out the needed materials to their classes, a blue square for the top of the hat, and a white strip of construction paper for the brim of the hat. This may sound plain, but once the seniors add their own materials to the hats, along with a little of their own personality, the end result is anything but simple. Favorite quotes, nicknames, pictures of friends, or magazine cutouts are among the most popular things to add to the hats. Some students, however, use a little more imagination in creating their masterpieces. Right: Jay Hudgins found it necessary to improvise and replace the construction paper with a pizza box. This made it easier to balance his license plates, toilet paper, and other original decorations on his senior hat.

Judson E. Hicks

Stanford-Warner

On September 30, 1995, students took a trip to The Maryland Renaissance Festival, or "Ren Fest" to the regulars. Some of the attractions include sword swallowers, mud fights, and Shakespearean plays and spoofs. Far Right: Some students just can't be taken anywhere. Jason Lepp and Andrew Greene learn not to misbehave in order to avoid such medieval forms of punishment as the stocks. Right: Souvenirs were quite expensive, but many found them too good to pass up despite the price. Floral hair wreaths were among the most popular purchases among this group of seniors.

Robert F. Stanford: likes track, drama, art.
"Are you kidding me, get on the back."

Lisa R. Steele

Maria A. Stewart (Toni): Loves Robbie, Cos I and II. Thanks Mom and Scootie! Future: Hairstylist.

Seniors

“Babies are bits of star-dust...”

-Larry Barretto

Most of the members of the senior class were born in 1978. In this year, the first test tube baby was born in London. Also, the first Volkswagen was produced in America. In sports action, the Dallas Cowboys won the Super Bowl and Leon Spinks defeated Muhammad Ali for the Heavyweight Championship.

“Life’s a dance, you learn as you go. Sometimes you lead, sometimes you follow.”

--John Michael Montgomery

In early October, there was a buzz in the halls of Courtland High School. Homecoming was the only thing on the minds of most sophomores. Questions flowed through the minds of everyone. Who should I ask? Who will ask me? Will I make a fool of myself dancing? These questions, along with many others, increased the excitement and intensity.

After all was said and done, Homecoming, for most, turned out to be a success. Most couples started the evening off with dinner, and then headed to the dance. Even though the DJ was late, it gave us some time to joke with our friends and get our pictures taken. Once he arrived, though, things picked up quickly. Overall, the night was a huge success!

“They are rich who have true friends.”

--Thomas Fuller

You see them in the hall, at lunchtime, and in the classroom. You talk with them, laugh with them, and sometimes even share some embarrassing moments together. These people are your friends and a major part of your four years of high school. Without them, school would simply be unbearable.

We meet many of our friends by getting involved with clubs, sports, and other activities. We spend our weekends together as well as spending endless hours on the phone. There are always small problems between friends, but for the most part, we cherish the friendships that we hold. It is said that some high school friendships last forever, but for the ones that don't, we will always have memories to hold on to.

SUCCESS, REMEMBER, IS THE REWARD OF TOIL. --SOPHOCLES

Top: Practice makes Perfect. That's what Jason Burchell and Todd Magin keep repeating to themselves as they endure yet another day of basketball practice. Bottom Left: These students are going beyond the call of duty by staying after school for a sophomore class board meeting. The board meets once a month to discuss future plans. Bottom Right: Theresa Rigsby tutors a freshman after school. Many sophomores are involved in the Cougar Tutor Program.

THE CLASS OF 1998 HAS NOT ONLY PROVEN TO BE A HIGHLY ACADEMIC CLASS, BUT ONE THAT IS ALSO VERY INVOLVED IN OTHER ASPECTS OF THE SCHOOL. MANY OF US ARE AFFILIATED WITH CLUBS, SPORTS AND OTHER AFTER SCHOOL ACTIVITIES. THIS MAY SEEM LIKE AN EASY FEAT, BUT IT TAKES MORE THAN IS EXPECTED. BALANCING TIME BETWEEN OUR STUDIES, AFTER SCHOOL ACTIVITIES, AND FAMILY IS A CHALLENGE, BUT THE RESULTS OF OUR EFFORTS ARE REWARDING. WE GAIN A NEW UNDERSTANDING OF OTHERS, OURSELVES, AND OUR ABILITIES.

-John F. Kennedy

Mr. Thomas Noakes works diligently to keep the school operations running smoothly. Being principal of this school isn't just a nine-to-five job, however, and Mr. Noakes can often be found working hard on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Assistant Principals Mary Speight and Bob Daniel know that their jobs, too, carry quite a bit of responsibility, as well as stress. Mrs. Speight, though, keeps things under control and still maintains her smile. Could that be a referral slip in Mr. Daniel's hand? Though Mr. Daniel can often be found joking around with students, he does not hesitate to assert his authority.

The 1995 Cougars were the Battlefield District Champions, Region II Champions, and State AA Champions. Riding the strong arms of John Snyder and Jeff Kepler along with the slick fielding of Mark Proctor, Nate Keranen, Joel Bencs, and Sean Roop, the Cougars defended their district title. The march through the Regional and State tournaments featured strong hitting performances by Snyder, Roop, Keranen, Proctor, Dave Frommer, Jason Ogle, Mike Darmour, Mike Kay and Shawn Houk. Many district games were big, but were none were as big as each playoff game beginning with Broad Run. There were six games, five decided by 1 run, and one decided by 2 runs. Team co-captains and co-MVPs were John Snyder and Jeff Kepler. Snyder was 1st Team All-District, All-Area and All-Region, and a member of the 1st All-State team for two positions. Kepler was 1st Team All-District and All-Area, and 2nd Team All-Region. Other honored players included Sean Roop who was 1st Team All-District, All-Area and All-Region, and 2nd Team All-State for his centerfield position. He also received the Incentive Award and was a team captain. David Frommer was 2nd Team All-District catcher, Nate Keranen was Honorable Mention All District 2nd base, and Mark Proctor was Honorable Mention All-District shortstop.

Opposite Page Left: Curtis Caram assumes the proper stance to force the play on his way to stealing another base. The Cougars' excellent base-running skills helped them achieve their State Championship status. Middle: Speed and agility are among Sean Roop's talents as an All-State baseball player. As well as being recognized for his centerfield position, he was also awarded with the Incentive Award. Below: Mark Proctor displays an excellent batting stance, which was much needed especially in the many close games won by the Cougars. As well as providing many runs for the team, Mark's fielding skills were another asset to the Cougars' success.

After many years of determination and hard work, the Courtland Cougars baseball team finally got what was coming to them: a long over-due State Championship. The true value of this accomplishment cannot be realized by simply glancing up at the newest addition to the banners in the gym. The road was long and hard on the way to the post-season schedule. The challenge began with Broad Run in the Regional Semi-Finals. The Cougars prevailed with a score of 4-3. The next five games were against such opponents as Handley, Louisa, Southampton,

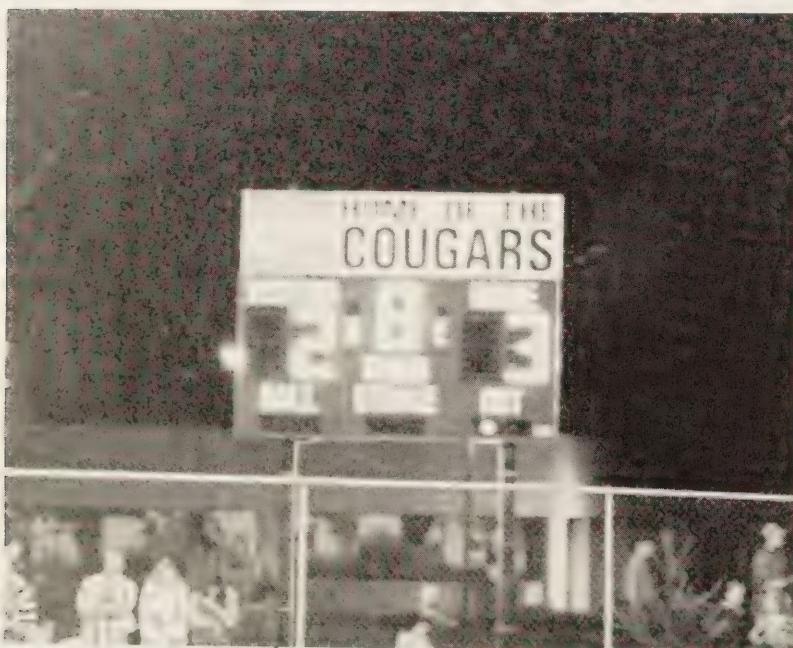

Nansemond River, and Brookville. These six games made up the march to the State Title and were won by a total of seven runs! The efforts of each member of the team were responsible for the excellent record, but the talent of certain players definitely seemed to shine through. Not only did they play well during regular season, but when the pressure was high throughout the playoffs and finally the Championship game, they never backed down. Some of these key players include John Snyder, Sean Roop, Nate Kieranen, Mark Proctor, Dave Frommer, Jason Ogle, Mike Darmour, Mike Kay, and Shawn Houk.

Right: Coach Holcomb celebrates the victory with Mike Kay. Kay delivered the needed RBI that took the game into overtime making the win possible.

Below: The eighth inning scoreboard was a good omen for Courtland fans. Although the game was incredibly close, the true Cougar fans knew who would pull it out in the end.

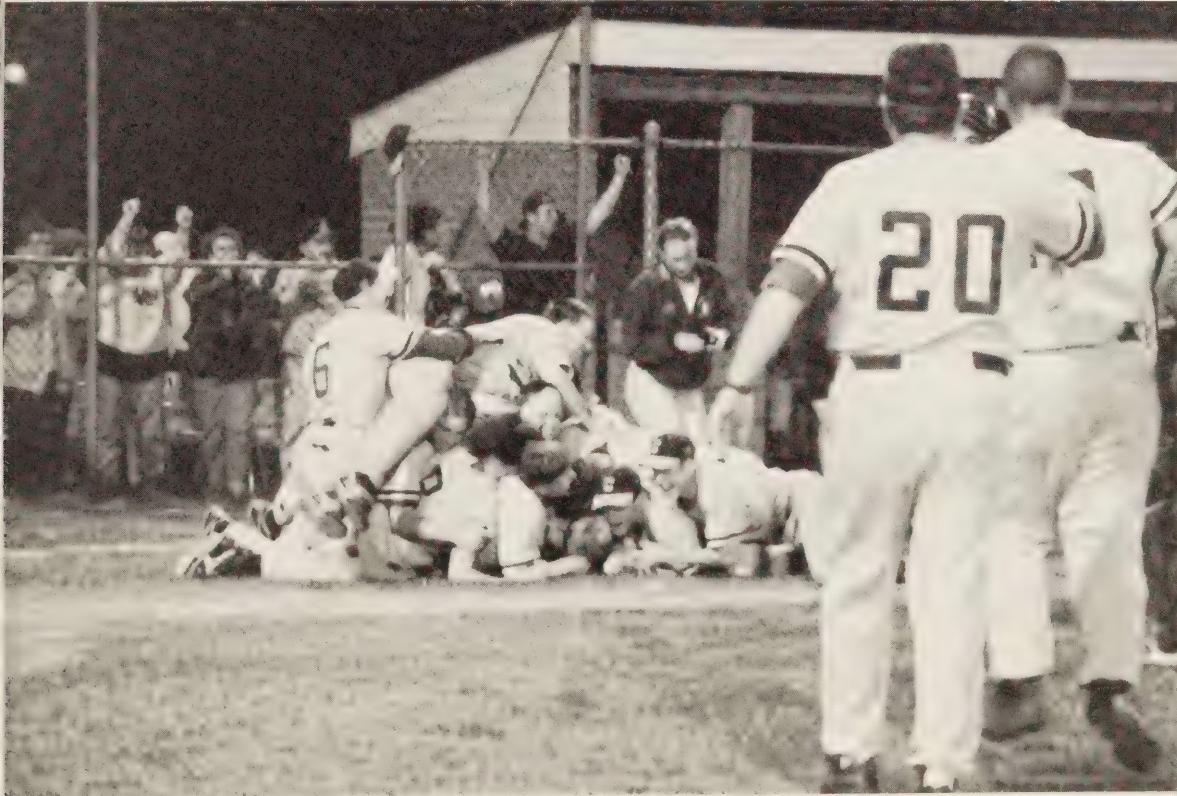

Right: John Snyder admires the team's trophy. After years of hard work, winning the State title was a perfect ending for all of the Senior baseball players.

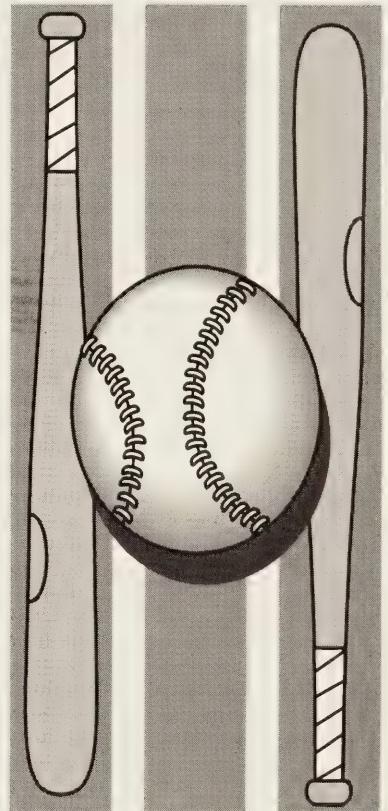

Left: The team pulls together after the game for a final huddle as each player reaches for the chance to touch their prized possession. Soon after, the trophy was proudly presented to Mr. Noakes.

Left: Victory in their hands and pride in their hearts, the team charges the mound. Many stayed long after the fans had left, not wanting the magic to end.

The '94-'95 Courtland J.V. Baseball team had a successful season, placing second in the district with a 14-4 record. This success was due to a combination of excellent coaches and skilled players. Key players of the season included Justin Duchemin, Jason Dunn, Steve Franklin, Robert Murphy, and Jeff Shawaryn. Jeff was awarded MVP and defensive player of the year, while Jason and Justin shared the honor of offensive player of the year. The team experienced its fair share of ups and downs but Coaches Gene Kotulka and Paul "Wild Man" Wasser kept them together through it all.

The Courtland J.V. Softball team had an exciting and successful season. Even though it was Coach Fraser's first season coaching softball, the team finished with an excellent record of 13 wins and 5 losses. Fraser's key players were April Ryan, Geri Ryan, Becca Svare, Missy Grieves, Cindy Cropp, Katie Ballantyne, Chaddie Rodrigues, and Jamie Lee. One of their season highlights was the 18-8 victory over Chancellor. The J.V. averaged 17 runs per game with an overall 290 runs scored.

The 1994-1995 Varsity Softball team had an extremely successful season. Behind the arm of Kristina Sublett, and the hard work of the team, the Cougars ended with a record of 16-5-1. Key players Kristina Sublett and Heather Gore made the All-District and All-Regional teams. Jenny Neunsinger made All-District and Amy Sale, the Honorable Mention team. The girls ended their regular season tied for first place. The Cougars beat Chancellor for the District Tournament title with a double play in the last inning. Coach Swaim took the Courtland Softball team to the Regional Tournament for the first time.

Spring Track

Spring track started during the cold month of March. Both teams had very successful seasons. Leading the Boys Team were Brian Conner and Nick Blecha in the 3200 and Travis Early in the 800 and 1600. Another high scorer for Courtland was Anthony Wallace. Anthony was the only freshman who advanced to the State meet in the long jump. Nick Blecha, Mark Gramann, Jeff Johnstone and John Schnell broke a school record in the 3200 meter relay. Jamie Spuchesi also qualified for the Regional meet in the discus. With this show of returning talent, the team should have another strong season for the '95-'96 school year.

Girls Track also had a strong season, not only breaking school records but Regional ones as well. Chantay Richardson, Eileen Smith, Clara Moulton and Nyquilia Cherry were the members of the 1600 meter team which broke the Regional record and placed fourth at States. Other girls who advanced to the Regional meet were Becky Dameron in the shot put, Alissa Ellis in the hurdles and Jennifer Smith in the 3200. With the track being upgraded, both the girls and boys teams are looking forward to being able to hold meets at their own track and many more successful seasons.

Right Page Top: Jeff Johnstone leads the competition in the 1600 meter relay. The mile relay was very successful last year at duel meets and invitationals. Right Page Bottom: After another smooth handoff, Cassandra Branch takes off for the final leg of the 400 meter relay. These short relays require hours of practice because it is crucial that the handoff between the two runners is perfect. Left Page Top: Laura McKenna leads the competition in the 1600 meter run at the Battlefield District Meet. This race is four long laps around the track and requires strength and speed. Right Page Bottom: Alissa Ellis soars over the hurdles with finesse. Alissa helped lead the Girls team to many victories with her talents.

The girls soccer team had a fantastic season last year. The team posted shutouts in the first six games and only lost to one team. The two ties came against rival Fredericksburg Christian School. Many of the team's victories came against schools, such as Western Albemarle and Brentsville, who defeated Courtland in the previous season. The last game of the season was a 16-0 win over first year team Culpeper. Key players included captain Meg MacDonald, Amanda Stabile, and Stephanie Bolliger. Meg was the Co-MVP for the All Area team. Amanda and Stephanie both made the All Area team. The team defeated Chancellor 5-2 to unofficially claim the District title. The team will be looking to defend its title this season, but certain players will need to adjust to new roles on the team.

Sitting: Breigh McKinney, Deniece Hines, Kristen Wade, Amanda Stabile,? Kneeling: Justin Meredith, Nora Lehman, Stephanie Carl, Kasiah Destackelberg, Stephanie Cobb, Sam Segal, Tracey Early, Misha Gebhart, Blair Spencer, Andrea Sokolowski Standing: Coach Conlee, Lara Segarra, Stephanie Bolliger, Sarah Seale, Katie Huber, Jessica Meredith, Holly Baker, Gina Feil, Ashleigh Toms, Coach Bracken.

This past year's Courtland soccer team continued with its proud tradition of success. The program has been very successful over the past few years and this year was no exception. The Cougars won their host inaugural tournament at the beginning of the year. They then went on to post an 11-2-1 record during the regular season, finishing second in the Battlefield District. In the Regional tournament the Cougars beat Loudon Valley and then crushed the state title dreams of the undefeated Chancellor Chargers in the second round. In the regional final, the Cougars lost to Western Albemarle. The team then moved on to the State AA tournament where they defeated York in the quarterfinals. However, in the semi-finals, the Cougars were defeated at the hands of Western Albemarle again. This season will be hard to beat for next year's Cougars, but a state title shot is still in the air. The Cougars' final record was 14-4-1.

This past year, the J.V. soccer team did exceptionally well in defending their winning record from the previous year. With Tim Allan leading the offense and Todd Magin helping out on defense, the team ended their season with a 6-2-2 record. The crowning moment for the team was their win over Chancellor in the beginning of the season. This was Courtland's first victory over Chancellor in J.V. history.

This year's golf team had a fairly successful season, considering that many valuable golfers graduated last year. Fortunately, the team was left with some talented players who helped them immensely. The golf team made it to Regionals and placed fourth this season. Jason Taylor was named MVP and Matt Adams was given the Coach's Award. These players will hopefully stay on the team to make the next season prosperous.

This year's cross country team enjoyed yet another successful season. The men's team had strong showings at several of the invitationals the team visited. They finished first in all of their dual and tri-meets, except for one. The top runners on the team included Joey Hess, Mark Gramann, and Steve Quattlebaum. An injury to Travis Early in the beginning of the season hurt his contribution to the team. Mark and Steve, the co-captains, will graduate this year and strong efforts are expected by some of the underclassmen. Andy Anderson and Brian Johnson, along with Hess, are expected to continue the cross country team's tradition of success. The women's team was led by a sophomore, Sarina Lyall. The girls had some trouble getting runners to come out for the team. Eventually though, the girls were able to compete as a team at the District Meet. Along with Sarina, captain Laura McKenna, helped to lead the team to strong finishes in its meets. The team hopes to field some more runners next year and be able to compete effectively the whole season.

Junior Varsity Girls Basketball

The J.V. Girls Basketball team faired very well this year, ending their season with a district record of 12-4. The team's biggest win came during the last game of the season against Orange. After losing to them at their first meeting, the girls came back to defeat the Hornets 38-37. Betsy Chilton was the leading scorer for the team and was also recognized as Most Valuable Player. Kim Johnson and Lisa Hockaday led in assists while Elizabeth Demchak and Megan Grimes pulled down the most rebounds. The team hopes to continue their winning streak next year as they move up to the AAA level.

This season the Courtland Cougar Varsity football team had an amazing turn around from the previous season with a Region 2 playoff birth.

The Cougars had many outstanding players that received area honors including Felix Canul, All District and All Region defensive tackle. Keith Pendleton also received All District wide receiver. The turning point of the season was when the Cougars defeated the Louisa Lions by a score of 14 to 13. That victory kept the team motivated to win, the defense only allowed 6 points in the next four games. The Cougar's season was capped off by Coach Poates receiving "Coach of The Year."

"...Then give three cheers,

This year's Fall Cheerleaders worked hard to support the girl's basketball team and football team. They start preparations for the year during the summer by going to a UCA camp. There, they competed in many competitions, and learned many new cheers. This year, the varsity squad won both the Dance and Sideline competitions, and they received the Leadership Award as the best all around squad. During the year, they practice every day after school, and work hard to get the crowd involved at the games.

The winter cheerleaders once again showed their spirit and dedication to the Courtland Cougars basketball team. They cheered hard at games as well as at pep rallies. The cheerleaders also performed with the band during lunch on Fridays. They also worked very hard to make locker signs for the team members as well as signs to promote sporting events. Ms. Martin sponsored the varsity squad and Ms. Goodwin sponsored the junior varsity squad. Two of the varsity cheerleaders, Colleen Givens and Christina Boiler, traveled to London to cheer in the Lord Mayor of Westminster's New Year's Day Parade over winter break. The varsity squad is looking forward to defending their title in the annual cheerleading competition.

This year's Varsity basketball team had an extremely impressive season. Their biggest rival was James Monroe; they lost one game and won one game against the Yellow Jackets. The Cougars also made it to Districts this year but lost their first game to James Monroe. Their record this year was 20-3. Key players included Shane Brooks, Teddy Davies, Joe Hawthorne, Adam Gentry, Arian Gibson, Mike Parish, Antwyon Mitchell, and Jay Johnson. Although five seniors are leaving Courtland this year, (Adam Gentry, Shane Brooks, Arian Gibson, Kevin Breen, and Mike Parish), the team looks very strong for next year.

The Junior Varsity basketball team had a very strong season this year. Their ending record was 12-5. Many key players contributed to their outstanding effort including Todd Magin, Todd Armstrong, Lane Brooks, John Barnes, and Deron Jones. Although a few important players moved up to Varsity this year, the JV team still had an exciting and rewarding season, and they came in 3rd place in the league. Next year's team looks promising, though, with several talented players moving up from the freshman team.

The Courtland Wrestling team had a successful season, ending with a record of 5-0-1. The team finished fourth at the District tournament out of seven teams at the end of the season. The team consisted of fifteen Varsity Wrestlers and eight J.V. Wrestlers. The members of the varsity team included Will Richardson, Troy Imler, Jeff Shawaryn, Ed Moss, David White, Ryan Donald, Jerico Slavin, Tommy Verna, Nick Ashworth, K.T. Jones, Jeremy Simms, Mike Gunnels, Curtis Caram, Matt White, and Matt Suplicki. Jeff Shawaryn and Ryan Donald led the team this year. Both won the District title in their weight classes for the second consecutive year. Shawaryn won the Regional title last year and finished second this year. The team looks forward to another rewarding season next year.

Gymnastics is a sport that many watch with awe at the strength and finesse of the competitors. Although the athletes make the events look so simple there are hours of practice and dedication behind every graceful movement that is made. In the end, all that time is rewarded, especially for the Courtland gymnastics team. The team had many impressive showings at meets this year, including a second at the Parkview Invitational. Finishing as District champions and runners-up in the Regional competition many records were broken along the way. A new floor record of 9.80, on beam 9.60, on bars 9.45 and all round 37.35 were set this season by Kristi Franklin. The only team member to qualify for the combined AA and AAA meet this year, Kristi placed 6th on beam, 10th on floor and 9th all-around. Although there are several Seniors such as Stephanie Mager, Asheley Kaila and Kristen Wade graduating this year, the gymnastics team should have another successful season with the returning talent of it's underclassmen.

Many Courtland students are involved in sports as extracurricular activities. These students must exhibit dedication to the sport in addition to their special talents or skills. Coaches at Courtland stress the importance of each individual's sense of teamwork. The most important thing about the sport is to have fun and set forth the best effort possible. Many students find lasting friendships with teammates. Students who participate in sports must also maintain specific academic standards in order to meet eligibility requirements. One of the goals of each team is to extend the playing season as far as possible. Several sports teams at Courtland achieve this goal each year.

The Royal Brigade Marching Band has once again had an outstanding year. Under the direction of Mr. Koch, the band excelled in all areas. The marching band, along with the color guard, attended many competitions and received Excellent to Superior ratings in almost all of them. They traveled to competitions as close as Spotsylvania High School and as far away as Cary, North Carolina. Other competitions were held at such places as North Stafford H.S., Lee Davis H.S., and James Madison University. With all the time spent at practices and competitions, the RBMB still managed to perform for us at the football games. Despite the efforts to make Homecoming flawless, somehow Mother Nature seemed to take her toll on the festivities. Due to the heavy rain and tornado warning, the football game was postponed from Friday night to Saturday afternoon. This change didn't seem to bother the football team, though. They rolled over Mt. Vernon with a score of 33-0. During the halftime show, Shane Brooks and Missy Muerdler were named Homecoming King and Queen.

That evening, the dance got off to a slow start due to the tardiness of the disc jockey. He soon arrived though, and the rest of the night proved to be a huge success. The commons area was decorated in black, burgundy, and gold. Balloons and streamers adorned the entryway and dance floor. The dancing continued right up until midnight when our magical evening was brought to a close.

Many thanks are owed to Missy Grieves and the SCA who made this year's Homecoming dance a night to remember.

"Shall I tell you the secret of the true scholar?
in some point and in that I learn of him."

To some people, a classroom may just be a cinderblock room with rows of desks for students and a big desk for the teacher. There is often a clock on the wall that is anxiously watched for 45 minutes until the next bell rings. To others, a classroom is still the same cinderblock room but it is an exciting place that teachers fill with interesting facts. They may stand at the front and lecture but there are some days that group projects or labs are performed that add some excitement to the day. Teachers spend countless hours preparing lessons that will not only capture the attention of their students, but give them something to remember for the future. These are the things that we will remember and these classrooms are where our memories will be made.

When the 2:45 bell rings on Friday afternoon, Courtland students stream from the school and prepare for the weekend. But where do all these students go? To the mall, to the movies, to a friend's house? Everyone has somewhere to go and someone to see. Most students use these two much needed days to socialize, but some just relax. No matter what is done, all enjoy themselves and when Monday rolls around, thoughts of the fun they will have on the weekend is all that keeps them going.

Each year several Courtland students are chosen to participate in special summer programs. These programs vary in subject matter according to the talents, interests, and abilities of the students. Junior Emily Jusino attended the distinguished Governor's Latin Academy. She said, "It was the greatest experience of my life." Seniors Jason Lepp, Tyler Melchior, and Bryan Rogers represented Courtland at Boys State at Liberty University. Shannon Kane and Jennifer Knoxville attended Girls State at Longwood College. These conventions helped these students in the development of leadership skills. Mark Gramann and Stephanie Mager were chosen to attend the Virginia Governor's School for Science and Technology at the College of William and Mary. This opportunity allowed the two seniors to further their knowledge in their fields of interest. Alissa Ellis, Heather Horechny, and Carly Lease attended the Virginia Governor's School for the Arts and the Humanities at the University of Richmond. Alissa studied dance, her long-time talent and interest, while Heather and Carly studied the humanities. All of these experiences proved to be enriching for the students' academic lives. In addition, students had the opportunity to make new friends from around the state.

“The Marvelous Playbill”

This year's drama students performed the One Act Play “The Marvelous Playbill.” The play starts out when Chanfalla The Great arrives in a Spanish town with his wife and daughter. The producer, Chanfalla the Great, wants to produce “The Marvelous Playbill.” Many of the townspeople wanted to audition, but there was one qualification. Chanfalla only wanted pure Castilians. The people insisted that they were pure Castilian. During the audition Chanfalla pretended that a giant, and a tidal wave were on the stage. He insisted that if they did not see the things that they were not pure Castilian. Therefore the people pretended to see things that were not actually there. In the end the people realize what Chanfalla is doing and chase him out

“A government of all the people, by all the people.”

-Theodore Parker

Each year the Seniors in Government class spend several weeks in Mock Congress. The students are separated into committees, and each committee chooses a topic. A bill is then proposed for the topic. For example, a bill to enforce stricter penalties against abuse of the elderly was proposed in seventh period. Each committee is responsible for presenting facts to support their bill. Students are required to keep a folder for each bill. The research they collect is used to debate the bill until it passes or fails. The classroom is conducted similarly to that of Congress: a Chairperson (the teacher) has control of the floor and students must address the Chairperson before speaking.

Top Left: LeMonte Farrish filibusters a proposed bill to lower the drinking age. This is a process to delay the passing of a bill. Top Right: The Senator from Hawaii (Gina Feil) consults with the Senator from Tennessee (Rachelle Wine). Senators are required to turn in Bill Folders for each bill that is debated. Bottom Left: Judson Hicks (Senator from Texas) reviews his notes. Each Senator was assigned a state for which they had to make a sign and research the state facts. Bottom Right: Barbra Wisniewski listens intently to the facts discussed on the floor. She takes notes on her daily note sheets.

"School days come and go too soon. Old friends, new heroes, lifetimes. Don't let a single memory fade away."

--Widespread Panic

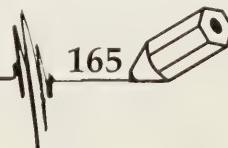

The illness commonly known as "senioritis" is spreading quickly throughout the halls of Courtland. As spring draws closer, the concentration level of seniors is rapidly declining. Instead of chemical equations, English papers, and math tests, seniors have visions of graduation day going through their minds. The stress level of seniors is also intensified as they make important decisions regarding their future plans. The Class of 1996 is headed for the future with feelings of anticipation, uncertainty, and reluctance. With time quickly passing by, the senior class officers and board members are preparing for the graduation that has been awaited for four long years.

"Those who deserve a good character, ought to have the satisfaction of knowing that they have it, both as a reward and as an encouragement." --Lord Chesterfield

Scholarship, service, leadership and character: these are a few of the characteristics that members of the National Honor Society possess. Students must apply for membership and meet certain criteria including grades and extracurricular activities. After being accepted, students still must strive to maintain these high standards. Some services performed by the NHS are assisting and tutoring students at Courtland Elementary School and regularly visiting Hughe's Home for Adults. In these ways members give back to the community.

The NHS Induction ceremony took place on February 1, 1996. Each officer spoke on the different values of the National Honor Society. The candlelight ceremony took place in the auditorium with President James Craig officiating. With twenty-eight new members this year, this organization will be better able to serve the community and continue to excel in many areas.

"Strong and content I travel the open road."

-Walt Whitman

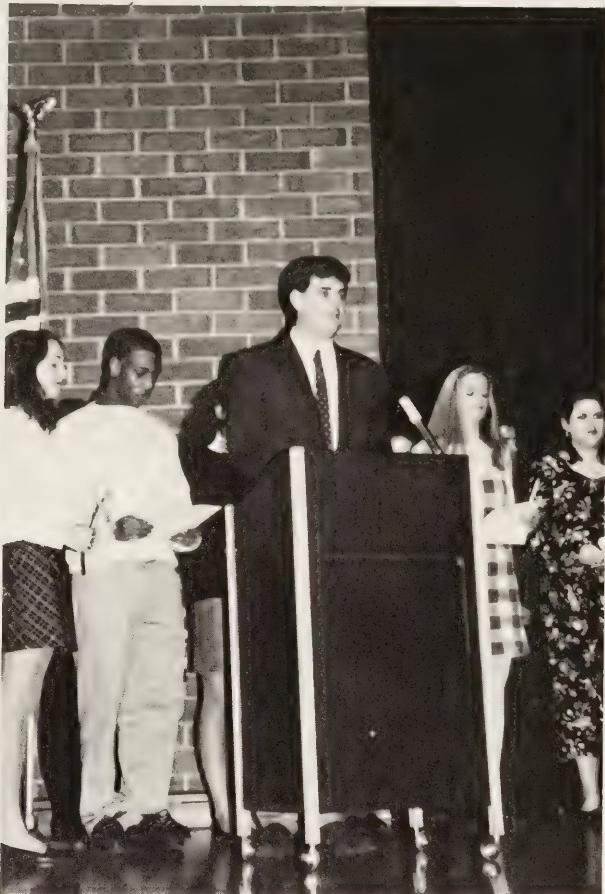

Expression is an important part of everyone's life. Some people choose to personalize their license plates as a way of expression. Providing a message with license plates is becoming more and more popular. Many Courtland students have taken to this idea. Vanity plates in the school parking lot display students' as well as teachers' nicknames or special interests.

Tessa K: This license plate displays the name of junior Tessa Knouff. Bazebl: Mr. Holcomb's license plate exhibits the name of the sport that he coaches. LV2 ACT: Drama is obviously an interest of Whitney Hitz. 96 BRAT: This is the license plate of senior Kim Hair. Q BALZ: Steve Quattlebaum's license plate displays his nickname. 91 BEAST: Ben Cover's license plate shows the year of his LeBaron and its nickname. OUT AT 2: This license plate belongs to baseball catcher Dave Frommer. SMYLEE: Robyn Quattlebaum and Tracey Young pose together on Tracey Young's Mustang.

Upcoming Seniors

Would you like to do something special for your son or daughter in his or her senior yearbook?

Reserve a space in the yearbook for your graduate! Senior ads may be purchased in the fall and may include pictures and/or brief messages to remember forever. Black and white or color photos may be used in the ad, but the ad itself will be black and white.
